Planned Improvements to Township's Roads Will Require a Major Infusion of Capital

Township roads have been neglected over the years in much the same way the sewer collection system was neglected. And like the sewers, there comes a point at which "drastic action" is needed.

This is the view of Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser, who wears a second hat as director of public works. Mr. Kiser has been working on a systematic plan of improvements to all Township roads and streets over the next five years. Like the sewer system, the improvements will require a major infusion of capital—ultimately coming from the taxpayer. Township Committee appropriated $550,000 for road repairs in the 1986 capital budget, the largest amount ever, and Mr. Kiser will be seeking close to $1 million for 1987.

There are 82 miles of Township-owned roads and streets which are the responsibility of the Public Works Department for maintenance and snow and leaf removal. Mr. Kiser says that when he took over in March, 1983, Herrontown Road had just been paved from Snowden Lane to Poor Farm Road, but no monies were allocated for road repair. That year $60,000 was scraped together for the repaving of Mt. Lucas Road from Herrontown Road to the Township border, the section of road in the worst condition at the time, in Mr. Kiser's view.

In 1984 Birch and Leigh Avenues were resurfaced and new curbing installed at a cost of more than $100,000. In 1985, with the boost of a contribution from the Elizabethtown Water Company, the roads that had been torn up to lay in a new water main — Mountain Avenue, and Terhune from Mt. Lucas to Harrison — were resurfaced, along with Witherspoon from Valley Road to the Borough line. The total cost was $400,000.

The $550,000 budgeted for 1986 is being spent in completing

3-Month-Old Baby Beaten; Mother Charged by Police

A Leigh Avenue mother has been charged by Township police with the assault Saturday of her 3-monthold son, who has been on a respirator near death in the intensive care unit of the Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital in New Brunswick since Sunday.

Police have charged Lisa Miner, 24, 7 Leigh Avenue, with aggravated assault and endangering the welfare of a child. She was arraigned in Township court and later taken to the Mercer County Detention Center to await a bail hearing.

Capt. Jack Petrone said Tuesday that further charges would be filed against Ms. Miner if the child, listed in critical condition, should die.

Township police were called at 4:41 Saturday afternoon by Ms. Miner,

DOT's Plans for Re-Routed 206 Will Hit Areas in Township Hard

A tull-blown, gradeseparated interchange at Mt. Lucas Road, and a relocation of Route 206 behind homes on Crestview, Balcort and Montadale Drives are shown in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) for proposed state highway 92 that is being circulated by the N.J. Department of Transportation (DOT).

The DOT will hold a public hearing Friday, December 8, from 5 to 10 p.m. at Princeton High School, on the impacts associated with the two major alignments and several segment schemes for the 13-mile highway that will connect Route 206 with the New Jersey Turnpike. The stated purpose of S-92 is to relieve tratfic congestion in Princeton and Hightstown, as well as improve east-west traffic flow and take the truck traffic off local roads.

S-92 is proposed as a fourlane divided highway with a grass median, except between Route 1 and Route 27, where there will be three travel lanes in each direction and a grass median. A no-build alternative is theoretically still under consideration by the DOT, although the DEIS makes it clear that the DOT does not consider this a truly viable alternative to achieve the stated goals of relieving traffic congestion.

Construction costs will vary between $138.5 million and $167 million, depending upon which alignment is chosen. Right-of-way acquisition costs will add another $20 to $40 million, according to the DEIS.

Borough and Township officials will be briefed by the DOT at a private meeting on Wednesday, December 3. Township Committee was asked last week by several Township residents and the chairman of the Joint Environmental Commission to publicly support Scheme 6 alignment along the Princeton-Montgomery border. The most gradege at Mt. schemes along the border, scheme 6 avoids the taking of land in the Autumn Hill Reservation, and it also avoids the Calton Homes Montgomery Woods townhouse development.

However, it bisects another townhouse development that has been approved by Montgomery but not built. This so-called Abrahamsen tract had been zoned for Mt. Laurei

Resident's Will Leaves 10 Acres of Forest Land To Princeton Borough

The Borough has been bequeathed a ten-acre forest fronting on Elm Road by one of Princeton's most distinguished citizens, who died in September at the age of 88.

The forest, which adjoins Elm Court and includes six acres of woodlands in the Borough and four in the Township, was willed to the Borough by the late Henry DeWolf Smyth, Joseph Henry Professor of Physics Emeritus, at Princeton University.

Dr. Smyth was a former member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and former U.S. Ambassador to the International Atomic Energy Agency. He was the author of Atomic Energy for Military Purposes, the official report on the development of the atomic bomb.

In his will, Prof. Smyth gave the Borough the first choice at accepting the ten acres of young forest. If the Borough had refused, it would then have been offered to the Township, and then to Princeton University.

Prof. Smyth's home, at 5 Lafayette Road West, was left to Princeton University. The six-bedroom, six-bathroom house, built in 1934, was pur-

New Traffic Signals Due In Princeton Borough

The New Jersey Department Transportation (DOT) is scheduled to complete a number of traffic signalization improvements along Nassau Street and Bayard Lane by the end of November.

Duai lead green arrows in both directions on Nassau Street will be installed at the Naasau-Washington Road-Vandeventer Avenue Intersection. A lead green arrow will re-place the lead green interval on Washington Road to facilitate left hand turns onto Nassau Street. Walk/Don't Walk signals will also be included at thia intersection.

A lead green arrow will be installed at the Nassau-Wither-spoon Street Intersection to facilitate traffic movement from castbound Nassau Street traffic wishing to turn left into Witherspoon Street. Walk/ Don't Walk signs will be included at this intersection.

Walk/Don't Walk signs will be installed at University Place and Nassau Street. The left lead arrow from Nassau Street westbound onto University Place will be continued. Walk/Don't Walk signs will be installed at the Nassau-Stockton Street and Bayard Lane intersections. The lead green arrow from Stockton Street onto Bayard Lane will continue.

An additional pedestrian-controlled push button will be installed at the Hodge Road-Paul Robeson and Bayard Lane intersections, thus providing pedestrian access at all four TOWN TOPICS classified ads got A.M.-7 P.M.'' sign has been installed across Bayard Lane from the present sign.

> Same further requests by the Borough were dealt with in a report from the DOT received this week at Borough Hail.

On the request for a center left turn lane along Route 206 between Hodge Road and Westcott Road, proposed pavement markings have been codcd and the signs have been ordered. Completion is expected within a month.

Although requested at a meeting last year, revisions have not yet been made at the Nassau and Harrison Street signal, since the DOT was unable to get accurate traffic counts with the bridge out. However, due to the additional traffic using this intersection because of the closing of both the Harrison Street Bridge and the Washington Street Bridge in Rocky Hill, a revised plan and timing schedule will be done shortly

The DOT has begun an investigation regarding the possibility of a traffic signal at breathing poorly.

Allegedly beaten by his mother, the victim suffered a fractured skull, chest injuries, severe trauma and brain damage. Assistant Prosecutor William J. Flanagan, who is heading the investigation, said there is evidence the child had been struck in the head with physical force and some kind of object.

He was first rushed to nearby Princeton Medical Center and transferred the next day to the New Brunswick facility and connected to a life-sustaining respirator.

The victim is the only child of Ms. Miner. She and the boy were alone when Township police arrived at the home. There were no witnesses to the alleged assault.

Capt. Petrone reported that there is a "domestic situation" involved which police did not want to get into. According to the investigation by Mr. Flanagan, however, Ms. Miner called police following an argument between herself and her boyfriend, the victim's father. whom authorities refused to identify.

in 1937. The ten acres of woodland, adjacent to the house, were purchased for $12,000 in 1952. The land is currently assessed at $285,000.

The forest will be a public park, functioning as a wildlife preserve and as a teaching tool for children. According to Dr. Smyth's will, the Borough must keep the land in its natural state. Only necessary mainte-nance, such as the clearing of branches, may be done. The only change the Borough might be able to make, if it wished, would be the putting down of a wood chip path.

"This will be a wonderful experience, especially for our children," said Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund. "The for-est is actually regenerating itself and they can see the for-est life cycle here in Prince-ton." She added that this was the only place to see pine trees growing wild within the limits of Princeton Borough.

The land had generated $6,075 a year in property taxes, of which $1200 was paid in local taxes to the Borough. The loss in total property taxes paid to Princeton Township is a far lower $1602.

The forest is expected to be named Smyth Woods. An official dedication ceremony is planned for the spring.

Year-Long Effort by Princeton Resident Results in Release of Innocent Prisoner

A member of Christ Con-gregation who has been conducting his own brand of prison ministry for six years was savoring the fruits of his labors this week.

James C. McCtoskey, a 1984 graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary who expects to be ordained at Christ Congregation soon, became the focus of national press and television attention when a man serving a life sentence on charges of sexual assault was exonerated and freed last Wednesday after serving 12 years in Trenton State Prison.

The release of Nathaniel Walker came after a year-long effort by Mr. McCloskey which uncovered laboratory and other evidence that proved Walker could not have committed the crimes for which he was con-

The Nathaniel Walker case is the fourth success for Cen-turion Ministries, which Mr. McCloskey founded in 1983 "to vindicate and free from prison through the judicial process those who are completely inno-cent of the crime for which they have been wrongly convicted and imprisoned."

There his attention was drawn to the inmate who would become his first case — a man who was serving a life sentence for the murder of a Newark car dealer he insisted he did not commit. After studying the transcripts in his trial and questioning the inmate closely, Mr. McCloskey took a leave of absence from Princeton to work on the case. He tracked down the state's chief witness and was able to demonstrate that this witness had lied and that the prosecution had withheld information that would have damaged the witness's credibility. The in-mate was freed after nine ears in jail.

Centurion Ministries receives numerous requests, usually forwarded by inmates at Rahway or Trenton State Prisons whom Mr. McCloskey has come to know and whose judgment he trusts. His method is to obtain all the documents that exist on a particular case, to read them carefully over a period of several months and to visit the inmate in person and over the phone. He also asks the inmate to write his autobiography, and says some have written 30-60 page manuscripts for him about their lives

He works out of the single room in which he lives rent-free in a Library Place home. He hopes that the publicity generated by the Nathaniel Walker case will also generate funding for Centurion Minis-tries. He is currently investigating two more cases which he hopes will have similar outcomes, and he knows that there are many

The motorists involved have failed to appear in court or did not respond to two notices warning them they might lose their driving privileges.

"The suspensions will be going on the motorists' violation records ever the next two weeks," said DMV Director Glenn Paulsen, "so any matorist who has not satisfied an outstanding ticket should do so immediately and report the information to Motor Vehicles."

No Ball to "Dangerous"

The atate Assembly has passed a measure that would permit judges to deny bail to defendents considered to be dangerous. It would allow judges to order the pretrial detention of defendents upon motion by the prosecution and to restrict the movement of other defendants charged with less serious crimes.

The bill is expected to face strong apposition in the Democratic-contralled Senate. It passed by a vate of 51-18 in the Assembly, but only alx Democrata supported it.

Tax Reductions for Some

A bill that would reduce the federal Income tax paid by state and local government employees has been passed by the state Assembly. More than 365,000 such employees would save nearly $55 million in taxes because the portion of their salary contributed to their pension fund would not be considered income. They would pay taxes only after they began callecting their pension.

A typical government emplayee earning $25,000 a year, and paying $1,000 into a pension fund, would be considered to have an income of $24,000, thus saving an estimated $300 in federal taxes.

False Information on Benefit Cut

A letter sent to about 10,000 state residents informing them that their Supplementary Security Income payments would be terminated contained erroneous information. The state Medicaid affice, which sent the letters, has received thousands of calls on its tall-free number due to the mix-up.

Charlene Brown, spokeswoman for the N.J. Department of Human Services, said she had no information on the erroneous letters.

Seminary Asks Borough To Exempt Three Houses

Princeton Theological Seminary has requested that the Borough grant tax-exempt status to three of its houses that are currently on the tax rolls.

The houses, at 104 Mercer Street, 2 Library Place, and 92 Stockton Street, are occupled by administrative and faculty persannel, according to Boraugh Mayor Barbara Sigmund.

She said that Bereugh Council had met on the request last week and refused to grant it. She added that the Berough thinks it's wrong for the Seminary to faist its obligation to house personnel on the taxpayer. "We don't agree these houses are part of the central mission of the Seminary," said the mayor.

Princeton Borough is currectly appealing a state Tax Court ruling this summer that granted tax exemption to two Mercer Street houses owned by the Seminary.

The five houses under dispute are assessed at a total of one million dollars. They paid taxes of $28,000 this past year, 20 percent of which were local municipal taxes. The rest went toward the support of the county and the schools.

Mayar Sigmund expressed cancern at a potential loss of $33 million in taxable property if the courts continue to allow off-campus housing for faculty members to be considered tax exempt. Currently, Princeton University pays taxes on property assessed at $31 million and the Seminary pays similar taxes on $2 million worth of property.

Some 41 percent of Borough properties pay no taxes, including $187 million owned by Princeton University and $21 million owned by the Seminary.

Mayor Sigmund and Councilman Marvin Reed are expected to appear this Wednesday, November 12, before Governor Kean's Tax Commission in Trenton. They plan to request compensation from the state tax base to those municipalities that are overloaded with tax-exempt properties — Princeton Borough included.

Curtailing Skateboards Is Asked by Committee

The Princeton Borough Traffic and Transportation Committee has requested Borough Council to prohibit skateboards from those Borough Streets that now prohibit bicycle

At its October 15 meeting, the Committee agreed with the Commission on Aging and with the police that skateboards on crowded sidewalks create a serious hazard and should be subject to the same restrictions as bicycles.

The sidewalks on which bicycle riding are prohibited include, in addition to the north side of Nassau Street between Bank and Moore Streets, both sides of each street entering Nassau Street from the north in that area except for Vandeventer Avenue, where only the west side is subject to the ban; both sides of the west, south and east sides of Palmer Square; and the south sides of Hulfish and Spring Streets. The committee would like the east side of Vandeventer added to

PU Worker Improves After a 27-Foot Fall

A 48-year-old Princeton University employee was described Tuesday as stable and in fair condition by a Princeton Medical Center spokesman, following a 27-foot fall Friday from the third floor of the Jadwin Physics Building on Washington Road.

Arthur Atoeff of 41 Spring Street was admitted in serious condition to the hospital, where he underwent surgery for an open skull fracture.

According to police, who were called at 9:04 in the morning, workers were on a third-floor terrace, weeding a series of planters filled with evergreens. Mr. Atoeff, police said, was standing in a planter box, shoveling out dirt, when he lost his balance, fell 27 feet and landed on the rock floor of the interior atrium. Co-workers told police that Mr. Atoeff had slipped and almost fallen earlier that morning.

Police said there were no railings around the planters.

A university spokesman described Mr. Atoeff as a temporary employee. Capt. Jack Petrone said that the victim has been a long-time worker for the Princeton Medical Center ground maintenance crew.

Township police are searching for a man who, they said, swindled a State Road firm of $1,224.50 in a theft by deception.

According to palice, D-J Business Service, 842 State Road, the victim, had rented office space and provided secretarial service to Salvatore J. Mandella. After starting a business, Mr. Mandella, police said, abruptly closed the operation and left the area, leaving behind rental, secretarial and telephone bills.

Capt. Jack Petrone commented that the police investigation "has led from one place to another." He added police have no address for Mondello and do not know if he is using a fictitious name.

Drug Charges Follow A Motor Vehicle Stop

Two Bensalem, Pa. residents have been charged with a number of drug offenses, after their car was stopped at 1:30 Monday morning on Nassau Street near Cedar Lane.

After Ptl. Anthony Federica and Ptl. David Dudeck stopped the car for going through a red light, further investigation by the officers uncavered the following in the car: eight plastic baggies containing marijuana, three glassine envelopes believed to contain methamphetamines (speed) and another baggie filled with a variety of prescription pills.

Police charged a passenger, Michael Perfidio, 20, with possession of marijuana, possession of speed, possession of drugs with intent to distribute and possession of prescription drugs not in proper containers. He was later released after posting $5,000 bail set by Judge Russell W. Annich Jr.

Missing Woman's Dog Returns Home

The dog of the 87-year-old Fownship resident, Brigitta Kavacs, who has been miss ing from her Linden Lane hame since October 22, has returned home. Ms. Kovacs, however, the object of a search that has included police helicopters, has still not been found.

Lt. Samuel Bianco reported this week that Ms. Kovacs' rust-colored retriever, Kali, whom she was walking or searching for when she was last seen, returned home alone on Thursday, 14 days after he had disappeared along with Ms. Kavacs. Lt. Bianca said the dag was dragging his leash, and he described him as looking tired and skinny. His back quarters had been skinned up, Lt. Bianco said, as if he had been caught on something and had pulled himself

He urged anyone who may have seen a dog resembling Kali, or a dog dragging a leash, to call Township police at

Stay Off Township Streets This Winter Until Snow Plowing Has Been Finished

Motorists entering Princeton Township will find it impossible not to notice one of the anow-removal signs above.

The Township has installed 53 of them in preparation for implementation of a new ordinance passed by Committee last December. As the sign says, the ordinance temporarily prohibits parking on Township roads until snow plowing and snow removal are completed. The ben will remain in effect until the streets have been plowed sufficiently that parking will not interfere with the normal flow of traffic.

But, as Capt. Jack Petrone noted this week, the signs' unequivocal message has some here apprehensive. "What if I'm just visiting somebody's home?" is just one of many envisioned scenarios.

The ordinance is really designed for all night parkers and drivers who abandon their cars, commented Capt. Petrone, in trying to ellay any fears. When plowing crews are out, if cars are left in the street, the streets never get plowed properly and the ruts and ice stoy there, he explained. "This ordinance gives police the right to remove a car."

As with any new ordinance, Capl. Petrone continued, he predicted police would be lenient during the first snowfall, as far as enforcement goes.

Said he, "We'll probably just hand out warnings the first

Service Awards Planned For Township Employees

The Township will institute a program of service awards for employees and volunteers this

Christine Smeltzer, assistant township adminstrator, outlined the program to Township Committee last week. The purpose of the program is to give recognition to employees and volunteers as they complete five-year milestones of service to the municipality and to establish the Township "as an employer people would want to work for," Ms. Smeltzer said.

All employees will be given an employee pin with the Town-ship logo, the Mercer Oak drawn by an assistant in the Engineering Department two years ago. The logo is on alt Township vehicles and sta-

The service awards will be in the form of gifts, such as pen and pencil scts and revere bowls. The first round will be presented at a party in the Valley Road building in mid-December.

Transportation Committee. Committee agreed to check with Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund and Borough Council about its interest in reviving a problems caused by the discontinuance of the loop hus and Township Committeeman Tom Poole suggested that its focus not be too broad — not include safety, for instance — and that the reasons for the failure of the previous committee be looked at before reinstating it.

In other business, Committee agreed to organizational changes involving the Housing Board and the Housing Fund set up under the affordable betwing ordinance to develop housing ordinance to develop and administer the Township's Mt. Laurel housing. Committee agreed that the Housing Board will become the prlmary agency to administer the program.

The Fund is expected to play n lesser role as the en-trepreneurial non-profit trepreneurial non-profit organization that acquires sites for housing, now that the Princeton Community Housing development of the Peterson tract is underway and the Township has been assigned a lower foir shore number than was originally anticipated.

The four citizen members who were appointed to the Housing Fund by former Mayor Winthrop S. Pike are expected to be named to the Housing Reard by Mayor Coll Fire ing Board by Mayor Gail Fire-stone, A member of Township Committee will also serve on the Housing Board, which will administer rules governing such things as income eligibili-ty, size of units, preference for residents, mix of rental units and units for sale as set forth in the ordinonce.

Up to now, the entire Township Committee has also served as the Housing Board. But it has been the members of the Housing Fund, namely Thomas S. Fulmer, Zvi Eiref, Edgar Matson and John Kelsey, along with Mayor Firestone and Mr. Poole, who have met regularly to immerse themselves in the technicalities of what it means to administer a housing program.

Pirandello Correspondence Donated to University

Princeton University has received 560 handwritten pieces of correspondence from the Italian playwright, novelist and short-story writer Luigi Pirandello to the stage and screen actress Marta Abba, who was the inspiration for a number of his most memorable

The letters, donated by Mme. Abba, were written from 1925 to a few days before the death of Pirandello on December 10, 1936, and comprise the complete body of his correspondence to her. It was Marta Abba who announced the news of Pirandello's death to the American public from the stage of the Plymouth Theater on Broadway.

The Pirandello letters illustrate the unique relationship between the maestro and the young actress, who was born in 1900 in Milan. At age 15, Marta Abba entered an acting school sey competes in the six-team located close to La Scala Thesouthern division, along with ater, where she revealed an exthe Princeton Hockey Club "B" ceptional talent. # National State takes bold step into the future

At last there is a bank that listens to what customers want and need! The National State Bank has taken a bold step by creating an entirely new banking environment designed to make banking easier for everyone and to deliver extraordinary personal service.

Cathy Lipton, manager of the new Montgomery office, stated, "We designed this exciting environment after research told us that people are looking for a better way to do their banking!"

The new office is one of the first banking offices of its kind in the country.

Something new Something different Something better

When you visit the new office, you'll notice something very different. Instead of standing in line at the usual tall teller counters, you'll sit in a comfortable chair to do your banking. Something else is very different—the quality of service you'll enjoy. Lipton stated that "Our customer service team handles a wider range of services than traditional tellers. You'll be able to get up-to-the-minute account information—and even learn which checks cleared since your last statement. The promise of caring service that other banks make is fulfilled at National State. It's full-service banking at its best."

Personal Financial Center and Priority Service

You don't have to be a millionaire to be treated like one at National State. If you have as little as $10,000 on deposit in any combination of accounts (including money market, savings, IRAs and CDs), or can transfer that amount from elsewhere, you qualify for private banking at the Personal Financial Center—away from the busy bank lobby. You can do your banking in a private office with your personal account manager.

With as little as $5,000 on deposit with us, you automatically qualify for priority service. Your personal account manager will do everything possible to make your banking smooth, efficient and enjoyable.

Very Civilized Banking

It all adds up to very civilized banking. A perfect blend of new ideas and technology with the best of the past—the kind of courtesy and outstanding service that has given National State its reputation for quality for 174 years.

You will save time when you're busy, and have all the time you need when you want to take the time. You can bank at your convenience in person at our office... or by phone from your office, your home or your car. Use MAC*/Plus* machines for 24-hour banking—at over 5,000 locations across the country.

Safe Deposit Boxes Available in all sizes.

Residents receive personal invitations

Special invitations will be sent out to area residents inviting them to stop by to meet the customer service representatives and enter the drawing for the free cruise to Bermuda.

Stop by soon!

Stop in and find out why so many customers insist that this is the only way to bank. Register for the free drawing, ask to see the WISH BOOK, and join in the celebration of the new office. Once you've tried this new kind of banking, you'll never want to go back to ordinary banking again!

FREE GIFTS and high yields for deposits

Browse through National State's WISH BOOK catalog and see the exciting variety of valuable gifts that can be yours, free, when you decide to open a new money market, savings account or certificate of deposit with a deposit of $5,000 or more. The larger your initial deposit, the greater the value and selection of gifts. Everything from fine silver and china to sporting goods, household appliances, tools, and more!

You'll be surprised to discover that, at National State, you won't have to sacrifice high yields for a free gift.

WIN a free luxury cruise for two to Bermuda!

Win a free luxury cruise for two to Bermuda, where you'll be pampered and treated like royalty for eight unforgettable days! To register for the drawing, simply fill out an entry form when you stop by to visit the new office. No deposit necessary. Lipton indicated, "The cruise is our way of giving you a taste of the kind of royal treatment you can expect to receive as a customer at National State."

New For Consumers

The fall, 1986, edition of the Consumer Information Catalog is your key to more than 200 government booklets filled with facts on everything from federal benefits to the benefits of good diet and exercise, from home repairs to repairing your family budget. And more than half of the publications are either free or cost only 50 cents.

The catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administratrion. For a free copy, send your name and address to Consumer Information Catalog, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. (Consumer groups, government offices, libraries, educators, and other non-profit organizations can receive 25 or more copies regularly each quarter by writing to the same address.)

The booklets are filled with information you might not know. For instance, did you know that.....

- If you don't want to wear a money belt when traveling abroad, there is another way to guard against pickpockets: Wrap your wallet in rubber bands. It will be much more difficult for someone to remove without your noticing it. (Your Trip Abroad. Item 151P, $1.00)
- To check the tread on your tire, insert a penny, head first, into the tread. The tread should come at least to Abe's head. If not, start looking for a tire sale. (Simple Self-Service. Item 154P, $1.00)
- Some people are eligible for Social Security benefits and don't know it. For example, if you are divorced but were married for ten years to a person who was insured under Social Security, you will be eligible for Social Security benefits at age 62. (Your Social Security. Item 510P, Free)
- It is best not to take prescription drugs with soft drinks. The soda may cause the drug to dissolve in the stomach rather than in the intestines where it can be more readily absorbed into the bloodstream,. (Some Things You Should Know About Prescription Drugs. Item 551P, Free)

Terhune Road from Harrison Street to Snowden Lane, and resurfacing Mt. Lucas from Ewing to Valley Road, Terhune needed extensive repairs to the road base in many areas, particularly at the Harrison Street intersection. The drainage also required attention, for there were icing problems at places where water collected, and the road needed re-leveling.

Once these repairs were made, both roads then received a two-inch FABC (fine aggregate bituminous concrete, commonly called asphalt) overlayment at a cost of $4.50 a square yard. It is Mr. Kiser's policy to treat all arteries which have high traffic valumes with the longer lasting, smoother asphalt paving. In 1984 he also embarked on a program of coating certain shortly for construction in 1987. of the residential streets that were breaking up with an oil and chip treatment. He has received criticism for this from residents, who complain of the dust raised when the gravel is dumped onto the ailed roadway and who object that the gravel residue is hard on bicycle tires.

Defense of Policy. But Mr. Kiser defends his policy on grounds of economics and roads already had an oil and chip surface - in fact, that is one of his criteria for resurfacing them in the same manner. He also seeks out roads which are "in distress" and which need immediate attention to prevent further deterioration.

The oil and chip treatment will seal a surface that is breakpotholes," Mr. Kiser notes. Once the Tawnship crews have ing of all these factors." swept up the excess stones, and traffic has compacted the fresh surface; the road looks pretty much the way it did before but without the cracks and holes, he says.

The oil and chip treatment years, It costs 68 cents a square for the $600,000 Mr. Kiser hopes yard, as opposed to $4.50 for the two-inch FABC overlay. In three years, provided there three years, provided there is have completed the asphalt resurfacing of the arterial roads and will then "drop back" to treating the residential streets in the same durable

Other Sources of Funds. The taxpayer is not the only source of funds for road repair. In 1986, the Township received a state grant of $150,000 to design and construct improvements at Harrison Street and Valley Road that have been a capital budget priority item for several imately $50,000 to pave a porthe middle of the intersection property line. And Planning will be removed, and left and Board approval of the Prioce-right turning lanes will be added for both north and south bound traffic. The turning radius will be improved, to make it easier for buses to make the turn out of the Shopping Center without seeming about to bump into the first car waiting for the light to change.

Six sycamore trees will have to be removed from the median that divides the highway, three from each side of the intersection, and the median scaled down for a distance to create the turning lanes. Mr. Kiser says four trees will be replac-ed, although they will not line up with the existing trees, nor will they be of the same height.

Much of the design work for the intersection has been done by Assistant Engineer Noel Sim, with input from Garmen Associates, the Township's traffic consultants. Mr. Kiser says the project will be bid out Improvements to Cherry Hill Road are Mr. Kiser's top priority for 1987. Continuing the widening to 24 feet begun at the bottom of the road by developer Benedict Yedlin as a condition for his Foulet tract approval; replacing the drainage ditches on either side of the road with storm water pipes; lengthening the culverts in two places; and grounds of economics and replacing the galvanized guard need, and he points out that the rails at these culverts with wooden ones that will blend in better with the character of the roadway — these improvements will all come to $600,000.

"We hope to do this with minimal disturbance to the trees," Mr. Kiser says. "We want to try to maintain the rural atmosphere of the road. But you have to take traffic into coning up and prevent water from sideration, along with getting into the cracks. "It is aesthetics and engineering, and the freezing and thawing in when you put them all togeth-these cracks that open up er, you hope everyone can live er, you hope everyone can live with the results. ton Gateway Corporate Cam-pus on the Mary Watts proper-ty and adjacent land included payment of approximately 150,000 for a traffic light on Route 206 and improvements to the intersection of Cherry Valley Road and Route 206.

Mr. Kiser says that the $80,000 it cost the Township to commission Garmen Associates to provide a sophisticated computer model of traffic under various development scenarios has in effect paid for itself by providing the solid data on which to negotiate the $935,000 in the settlement agreement with Dravo/Garden State Land over Princeton

Other Priorities. Coming back to 1987, Mr. Kiser's other priorities for next year's capital budget include reconstruction of Edgerstoune Road from Route 206 to Winant Road at $150,000; Ewing Street, from Route 206 to Bunn Drive, $200,000; and Lovers Lane, $75,000. Added to the $600,000 for Cherry Hill, they come to slightly more than $1 million.

Almost one-half the cost of the Edgerstoune work will be reimbursed by contributions from Springland Associates, developers of the Russell estate. Mr. Kiser says it will be "difficult and sensitive" project, trying to establish the 24-foot road width and reconstruct an inadequate base that bears heavy bus traffic while keeping as many of the shrubs as possible and the several cobblestone driveways.

Other Township arteries that will require attention before the Public Works Department can turn to the residential streets are Mercer Road, Harrison Street, Alexander Street and The Great Road, Mr. Kiser has written a letter asking Mercer County to take over Mercer Road, on the grounds that it is carrying just as much traffic as parallel state highway 206. Much of the traffic is regional, he points out, and the Township should not have to pay for its npkeep.

Mr. Kiser says it is "clear cut" to him what is needed on the arterial roads, and in which order, so as to get the best results for the money. But figuring out the structural and surface needs of the residential streets, and ranking the priorities, would require a study, he says.

Township Committee has approved the hiring of Pavement lauagement Systems of Cambridge, Ontario, to do such an evaluation at a cost of $35,000 but has not awarded the contract. The study would be put on the Township computer system, which is just "coming on managing a road system," Mr. Giser remarks, as the interview ends, "especially one that has been let go for so long."

Dismay Voiced. Last week Township Committee members had not had an opportunity to study the weighty, nine-volume DEIS, which is available to the public at the clerk's office in the Valley Road building and at the Public Library. However, they voiced their initial dismay over the expanded westerly relocation of Route 206 through the ridge. Homes along existing State Road and Arreton Drive will be affected, as well as the Princeton Ridge tract that is the subject of a recently approved agreement to settle zoning and Mt. Laurel litigation.

Earlier S-92 location studies showed a slight bowing of relocated Route 206 from a point one-half mile south of Cherry Valley Road to south of the intersection of Route 518. A spur linking the end of S-92 with Cherry Valley Road was inseriously with the Princeton seeking Route 1. Community Housing developwhich is one of Princeton Township's affordable housing sites. In addition, it would have required the taking of some 600 feet of the existing runway at Princeton Airport, among other dislocations.

Because of these major concerns, the DOT now proposes a more westerly, and more extensive, relocation of Route 206 from a point near Arreton Road to north of the Orchard Road intersection in Montgomery. There would be at-grade intersections at Cherry Valley Road, Route 518 and Orchard terminus of Route 92.

posed, this relocation of Route densely populated residential struction of noise barriers in 206 would have interfered area of the Borough for traffic certain locations. There will be adverse effects on the Delaware and Raritan Canal Park as well as the Autumn Hill Reservation.

> Somewhat surprisingly, the DOT map forecasting traffic volumes in the year 2008 shows a higher volume of traffic on Route 206 within Princeton borders and on Harrison Street if S-92 is built than under a nobuild scenario. Elsewhere in the report, the DOT projects a reduction of traffic volumes at cordon line surrounding Princeton by approximately 20 or 11 percent, depending on which alignment is followed.

The DOT also maintains that there will be a reduction in through traffic and a reduction in traffic congestion throughout Princeton.

Those who are unable to attend the public hearing and wish to comment on the alignments and schemes are invited to write John Mycoff, Office of severity to warrant the con-struction of noise barriers in Department of Transportation, 08625.

Nassau Christian Center Acquires a New Pastor

RELIGION

The Rev. Tony Cervero will succeed the Rev. Jesse Owens as paster of Nassau Christian Center, an Assemblies of God church at Nassau and Chambers Streets, Mr. Owens, who founded the church with 28 other individuals eight years ago, ia leaving to pursue evangelical missionary work around the world.

Mr. Cervero, 30, grew up in Erie, Pa., and received all his higher education in Springfield, Mo., where he earned a B.A. in Biblical atudies and behavioral sciences from Evangel College, an M.A. in guidance and counseling from Southwest Missouri State University, and an M.Div from Assemblies of God Theological Seminary. He was an associate pastor of an Assemblies of God church in Oklahoma City before being named national assistant secretary of the youth depart-ment for the General Council of the Assemblies of God, based in Springfield, Mo.

In this post he coordinated the national ministries of the department and acted as its public voice. Since April, he has been traveling across the U.S. and abroad as an evangeilst and writing training manuals in youth ministry and disciple-

Mr. Cervero will begin work at Nassau Christian Center December 1, sharing the pastorate with Mr. Owens until January t. The installation service will take place December 14.

Mr. Owens and his wife Kay, a licensed minister with the Assemblies of God, will do missions work together. They will go first to a Bible college in Portugal where they teach young ministers how to pastor. Other stops in their world-wide missionary itinerary include Argentina, Colombia, Costa Rica and Bombay, India.

Mr Owens will speak at crusades, revivals, military bases and college campuses.

The Friends Plan Series Of Talks on Quakerism

'Quaker Decision-Making' will be the subject of a talk by John Borden at the Princeton Friends Meeting, Sunday at

The talk is the second in a series on Quakerism, with the overall title, "The Experience of Light." If will be held in the library of the First Day School on the Meeting property at the intersection of Mercer Street and Quaker Road at Stony Brook. The series is intended for the public as well as for members and attenders of the meeting.

John Bordeo is a Princeton resident and member of the Princeton Friends Meeting. He brings to the talk his experience as cierk of the meeting, clerk at one time or another of most of the committees of the meeting, and affiliation with the American Friends Service Committee as a fundraiser traveling on its behalf. He will discuss the variety of structures in Friends' meeting; how Friends accomplish the work that is brought before them; and the relation of their structures and processes to the inward light.

Quaker decision-making outwardiy esembles the consensus models currently used by many groups. Inwardly, how-ever, at its best, it is a spiritual exercise, an effort at group discernment.

This talk is the second in a series designed to relate some of Friends' history, faith and practice to the living experience lying at its heart.

Bulletin Notes

The Montgomery United Methodist Church will hold its ninth annual Christmas Village Bazaar on Friday, November 21, from 4 to 9, and Saturday, November 22, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the church on Sunset Road in Belle Mead.

Holiday shoppers will find hundreds of handcrafted gifts, holiday decorations and festive foods. Specialty booths this year include the Nature Shoppe and Tree Ornaments, augmented by the Art Studio, Sweet Shoppe, Bake Shoppe, Frozen Gourmet, Curiusity Shoppe, Kitchen Pantry, Children's Gifts, Silent Auction, and Cafe.

Saturday morning, from 9 to 11, the Cafe will offer a special, all-you-can-eat pancake break-fast for $3 for those who want to get an early start. Senior citizens are especially wel-come; to assist their holiday shopping on Saturday, the Bazaar will open an hour early at 9 for senior citizens only.

Children will find a special area where they will find inex-pensive gifts for their families and friends, as well as a game room in which to relax while parents complete thier shopping. Free babysitting will be available for parents of smaller children.

Antique furniture and artifacts will be in abundance at Tentoonstelling '86, which will be held at Blawenburg Reformed Church in Montgomery Township on Saturday from 9 to Tom Skillman, co-chairman of the Antiques Booth, says that this year's quantity is due to donations from two local residents. Desks, stands, a spinning wheel, lamps, bottles, plank bottom chairs, baskets, kettles, restored trunks, drop-leaf and extension tables, tools and kitchen utensils will be sold.

In addition, there will be booths selling Christmas decorations, home decor items, crafts, white elephant items, plants and trees, baked goods, and gourmet foods. Lunch will be served from 11 until 1:30, and child care will be available throughout the day. The sanctuary will be open for inspection, and organ music will be played.

Prof. Ake W. Sjoberg will speak on "What They Learned in School in Ancient Sumeria' Tuesday at 8 in St. Paul's School gym. The lecture is one of a series sponsored by St. Paul's Church and The Aquinas Foundation

Prof. Sjoberg is Clark Re-search Professor of Assyriology at the University of Penn-sylvania and curator of the tabet collection of the University Museum of Philadelphia. An acknowledged expert on the ancient world, be is the author of many books and articles about the Sumerian peoples (who lived in what is southern Iraq from 2400-2000BC) and their languages.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

ROOT DISEASE: with Sam DeTuro

Woodwinds Associates

Meny symptoms of root diseases are not immodiately obvious and give little identification of severity. Pay close attention to changes in your plants.

There are several types of root diseases, such as Crown Gell, Root Rot end miscellaneous diseases end injuries such as chenge in soil grede, construction demage, salt injury, girdling roots, weather conditions, insects, rodents, and wilt disease.

When trees start to decline in vigor for one or more years, shoot growth is reduced and toliage is off-color or dwerfed, upper brenchas top or crown wilts and dies back, e heavy crop of fruit appears (berries, cones, ecorns). These are all symptoms of root problems.

CROWN GALL: This disease usually appears at or near the soil line or e greft union on the roots. Rounded swellings develop and may enlerge to e foot or more in diameter. Young gells are light colored and spongy. As they ege they become herd woody and elmost black in color and have a rough surface. Young trees effected with crown gell ere slunted and the follege turns yollow and withers.

ROOT ROTS: ere caused by sollborne fungi primery species of Armillaria and Phytophthore.

ARMILLARIA Is one of the most common. It attecks a wide renge of woody plants such as Oeks, Mepies, Firs, Pines, Dogwoods. Symptoms ere deciine in vigor, leaves turn pale green or yellow, wilt end drop prematurely end the upper crown dies beck. It is identified by the white to creemy-white fanshaped peper-thick sheets of Armillerie mycellum growing under the bark and over the wetersoeked sepwood at the trunk base or in the mein roots near the root coller. The mycellum hes a strong mushroom odor.

PHYTOPHTHORA ROOT ROTS: Infect a wide range of trees and shrubs such as Apple, Arborvitae, Azalea, Birch, Crebepple, Cedar, Dogwood, Fir, Larch, Locust, Oek, Pear, Walnut end Yew. Phytophthora high soil moisture, where soil is poorly dreined and low in fertility. The symptoms are: deeo branches occur in the upper crown area end sprouts appear on the trunk. In evergreens the current year's needles are stunted and turn yellow-green. In broadleafed trees the leeves are light green and fell premeturely.

Loss of trees from root rot can be controlled by the following practices.

 Plant disease-free trees in fertile well dreined soil.
 Avoid wounds to roots and tree bese.

3. Keep well watered during dry periods.

4. Keep fertilized end remove all dead, diseased end week

Call on WOODWINDS for all your tree care needs. (609-924-3500).

Real Estate Associates, Incorporated

Lawrenceville Office 2431 Main Street Lawrenceville, N.J. 08648 609-896-8100

An elegant one bedroom condominium with three fireplaces is available in this distinguished renovated mansion. Located on the first floor. Living room with French doors to a private terrace, a contemporary kitchen with unusual breakfast area, a library 18' x 17', a bedroom and 11/2 baths. Marvelous views overlooking lovely lawns and gardens and a 52 acre state conservation preserve. Swimming pool, garage, basement storage.

LIGHT HORSE HILL FARM - HOPEWELL

For well over 200 years, this lovely farm has nestled peacefully in the gentle , hills of Hopewell. Disturbed briefly during the chaos of the Revolution by a visit from "Light Horse" Harry Lee, it earned a place in the history of the area. Fenced meadows, timbered barns and spring house shelter the pool, terraces, gardens and house. A sensitive addition blends with the original residence and the integrity of the architectural details have been completely preserved. Two living rooms, distinguished by carved mantels, dining with walk-in fireplace, study, five bedrooms with two additional fireplaces, kitchen, and 2 full plus 2 half baths complete the interior. All $750,000 on 9.2 acres.

RIVERSIDE AREA

Located on a quiet cul-de-sac one-half mile from Riverside School and within walking distance of the New York bus, this comfortable house is in one of Princeton's most desirable neighborhoods. The floor plan includes an entry hall, living room with a wall of bookshelves, dining room with a chair rail, and an eat-in kitchen with a beamed ceiling. Three bedrooms and two baths complete the main floor. On the lower level: a family room with wall-to-wall carpeting, a raised hearth fireplace, and sliding doors to a patio with a gas grill, plus, a fourth bedroom or study, a furnace and laundry room combination, a lavatory off the family room, and a two-car garage. Sloping gently to the rear, the lot is deep and private and includes mature shrubbery, foundation planting, and many lovely old $298,000 trees. A good value at

WOODS HILL

A perfect property name for this gem of a Cape Cod sited on four plus beautiful acres in the hills just above Hopewell. Separate living and dining rooms, levely bright sun room with sliding doors to a brick terrace with sitting wall, spacious kitchen with natural pine cabinets, lavatorylaundry. On second floor three bedrooms, full tile bath. Full basement, two-car garage. Exceptional trees and shrubs including dogwoods, fruit trees, Christmas trees, and black walnut. Already level tennis court site.

WESTERN BOROUGH

On quiet, tree-lined Westcott Road, a traditional looking Colonial with lots of up-to-date surprises. A two-story living room, a master bedroom suite with fireplace in the tree tops, and a sparkling swimming pool are just a few of the spectacular features. Four more bedrooms, a second living room, dining room, a separate study and a sun porch and kitchen with breakfast rooms complete the picture. This house is ideal for a sizeable $650,000 family.

PRETTY BROOK ROAD AREA

This gracious French country house is perfection on all counts. Great location on 2 plus wooded acres in pretty and prestigious northwest Princeton. Marvelous floor plan for entertaining or just comfortable living including a front to back center hall with terra cotta floor, spacious formal living and dining rooms; both a den with a beamed cathedral ceiling and cozy library with fireplace; guest bedroom and bath; powder room; great kitchen with adjoining breakfast and laundry rooms. Three upstairs bedrooms with two baths including a huge master bedroom with dressing area and bath. For outdoor living, a picturesque screened porch with beamed ceiling, a multi-level brick terrace with sitting wall and a sparkling pool. All in absolutely mint condition.

DISCUSSING HER MARITAL PROSPECTS: Patsy Newquist (Leslie Gerci) tells her father, played by Jack Murdock, that he'd better like the boyfriend she has brought home for his approval; she is 27, and all her other prospects are married. "I can't wait five years for their divorces to come through," she says in Act I of "Little Murders," the Jules Felffer comedy playing at McCarter.

it is clear why McCarter's Artistic Director Nagle Jackson put this play in repertory with Our Town. It could be called Our City. Wilder's masterpiece portrays some ordinary New England villagers of 100 or so years ago; Feiffer gives us a family in New York City in 1968.

Here ends Act II - and here, for this reviewer, the comedy pretty much ends, too.

Act III, six months later, serves up more funny lines and touches - including armorplating on door and windows, and Mother's coming home from marketing with milk streaming out of a bulletpierced carton in her grocery bag — but a satirical farce that has been teetering on the edge of preachiness now gets heavyhanded.

Not only has the city deteriorated, so have its citizens. Alfred, no longer pacific, has bought a rifle ("It was on sale") with which he, Father and a mysteriously returned Kenny snipe at pedestrians below through an aperture in the steel-shuttered windows.

One of those felled is police lieutenant Miles Practice, who has just been in the apartment explaining his discovery of the motivation back of 345 unsolved murders in the last six months: someone wants to shake people's faith in the po-

Or so it seemed to this witness.

Superb Cast. The cast is superb: Jack Murdock as the irascible, super-conservative father; Ruth Schudson as the always-on-the-run mother; Rick Lawless as the agile, naturally comic Kenny, a young actor for whom one might predict a good future.

Perhaps the most original performance is Michael O'Hare's as stalwart Alfred, whose tribulations as a professional photographer seem drawn from life. His experience with a fed agent monitoring his mail seems drawn from some other character's life.

Henson Keyes as the far-out Rev. Henry Dupas puts on a stunning one-man comedy-within-the-comedy as he mar-ries Patsy to Alfred before an attractive handful of wedding guests including Karl Light, Jay Doyle, Anne Sheldon, and Greg Thornton.

Women in Vietnam Subjects of New Play

Playwrights-at-McCarter, the theatre's series of staged readings of new works, con-cludes its fall series with Joe DiMiceli's Cosualties, a drama of women's experiences in Viet-nam, which will be read by prolessional actors in the Forbes College Theatre, 115 Alexander Road, Monday at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Cosualties takes place 15 years after Vietnam, when an ex-combat nurse, turned clinical psychologist, fights to continue her treatment of other nurses, trying to unlock them from a past that controls their present. It is a harshly realistic but humane examination of the women's experiences in Vietnam, their mental delenses, and bureaucracy at home.

The reading will be followed by a discussion with the play-wright, Joe DeMiceli, moderated by director Robert Lanchester. For more information call 452-5156 or 452-6619.

'Fantasticks' with Dinner At Trenton State College

A dinner theater production of The Fantasticks, the longest running musical ever, will open for two nights at Trenton State College on Friday, November 21. The play, which is being presented by the college's Opera Workshop, will be performed at 7 on both nights in Bray

The Fantasticks is the story of a boy and a girl who are neighbors. Their parents deliberately construct a wall between their homes so they will contrive to meet and fall in love. Their plot works well until the wall is removed and the couple, whose love is no longer forbidden, decide to part ways.

The musical is known for its pretty tunes and clever lyrics. Tickets for the show, including dinner, are $15 for general admission and $10 for TSC students, faculty and staff. They are available at the Student Center information desk.

THE GYPSIES sing the finale of the title song in Princeton Triangle Club's fall production "Applause." The musical will run this weekend and next at the Triangle-Broadmead Theatre, 171 Broadmead.

In our lives most of us seek some form of praise and approval. For those in the theater it comes as the wordless, yet so gratifying, applause. That theatrical form of approval is just what was heard from the largely student audience at Friday night's performance of the aptly named musical Applause.

Presented by Princeton University Triangle Club, Applause deals with one actress' struggle to hold center stage even as her spotlight is being stolen from her.

It is based on the 1950 film All

About Eve and the original story by Mary Orr. Betty Comauthored such greats as On the Tawn and Singin' in the Rain, while Charles Strouse and Lee Adams collaborated on the music and lyrics with Bye, Bye, of Applause opened to rave reviews in 1970, with Lauren Bacall in the leading role. By the end of that first season, Applause had swept the Tony

The flashbacks begin and we see Birdie already to their credit.
The original stage production how it atl started.

In Triangle Club's production, the "star," Margo Channing, was unevenly played by Margarita S. Andreu. The difficult rate of Marga. a middle ficult role of Margo, a middleaged actress who displays as many moods as she has acting credits, demands a lot of experience. Having made the theater her whole life, Margo discovers that life running out of her. Miss Andreu did give the overall sense of this emotionat crisis, but felt short of its painful depths.

Haw It All Began... Fittingly,

The young ingenue, Eve Harrington, who comes to bask in Margo's spotlight, is played by Carot Dunne with a convincing innocence which well conceals her intentions. As she sings, "The Best Night of My Life" the audience seems certain that this star-struck girl has been dazzled by her good fortune.

The one character she does not seem able to convince of her innocence is Bill Sampson (Paul A. Stewart), who accepts Eve for her talent, but discards

Kudos to the Cast. The lively Erik C. Brodnax gave the show lots of extra spirit as Margo's hairdresser and confidant. Also worth mentioning are Glenn Pannetl and Sheila McLenaghan who played the oh-so-preppie playwright and his wife — clean shaven, green plaided, with a country home in Con-necticut. Andrew Blau, the producer, went from quietly flirtatious to demandingly possessive. And Melissa A. Schramm was the nosy, overbearing columnist.

sies," the sometimes-in-work, sometimes-out-of-work dancers and actors. They sang "Back-stage Babble," the title song "Applause," and "She's No Longer a Gypsy," which for the space available was well choreographed by Holly Cole.

All this song and dance was backed up by no less than a 14-piece orchestra (which was quite a tot of sound for the small theater) under the direction of Matthew Kaplan. The set design by Greg Van Horn was unfortunately a bit too am-bitious, again due to a limited play area. Triangle's new arrangement for audience scating provides better sight lines but creates a stage area which is very wide and very shallow. #### Lecture on Sargent's Art Planned at University

Morianne C. Grey will lecture on "John Singer Sargent: innocence and Experience" on Monday at 4:30 p.m. in 101 McCormick Hall, Princeton University. Mrs. Grey's lecture is sponsored by the Friends of The Art Museum, Princeton University, in conjunction with a trip to the Whitney Museum of American Art to view the exhibition of Sargent's work.

Mrs. Grey, a graduate of Bryn Mawr College and a docent at The Art Museum, Hopewell House Square, will hold its third annual miniature

The lecture is open to the public. For further information, call JoAnn Carchman at 452-3762.

Fiber, Wood and Metal On View at State Museum

The first of three lectures designed to complement the current exhibition of fiber, metal and wood at the New Jersey State Museum will focus on fiber. It is scheduled for Saturday at 3.

Joy Saville of Princeton is one of the three fiber artists who will show slides, talk about their techniques and the materials they use as well as the imagery they use to create their art. The remaining lectures will be held on November 23 on wood and December 14 on metal. Admission is free.

The juried exhibition, "New Jersey Arts Annual: Fiber, Metal & Wood," features 81 works by 54 artists and will continue through January 11. A catalogue illustrating the work of each artist accompanies the

A Time-Honored Custom: English Shop Shopping

'The luckiest day of my life was a beautiful spring day in April of 1942 when I got off the Dinky and walked to Nassau Street," recalls Eric Mihan with a smile. "I knew this was good, and it always has been. The Mihans never had it so er of the Student Tailor Shop on the Princeton University campus. "I'm very proud of that," he says. "It was very successful. We did the most business of any agency on campus at that time."

Opened in 1951. The desire to start his own business was becoming stronger, bowever, and on November 11, 1951, he opened The English Shop on Palmer Square West.
"I always wanted to start my own business, to have a business of my own, whatever it was. I did the buying at the Student Tailor Shop, so I was fa-miliar with that part of the business. I had been buying imported woolens, and I knew a ot of English importers and liked them. I was sold on the quality of imported goods. I said, 'Look, I don't have any money. I need some merchandise to get started.' All of them went along with me and gave me credit. I was impressed with the way they did business. I still do business with them. They're fine people.

"I chose The English Shop as the name because of this," he continues, "and also Princeton was a very Anglophile town then. It's been a good choice."

Although hopeful and confident at the time, he never en visioned the extent of his store's success. "If anyone then had predicted it would be so successful, I would have said, 'Oh, come on!' But we must have done something right, and we do have a good reputation. Customers know they can rely on the quality here.

"I've enjoyed everything about it," he adds, "including, and especially, the 12-hour days. I've also have had the attitude that there's room for improvement. Things can always be better."

Originally concentrating ex-clusively on men's clothing, the shop added women's apparel in 1957 when it moved to its present location on Nassau Street. This proved so successful that in 1964, the store expanded its quarters, moving the women's department into its own section next door.

Traditionat Styles. Both the men's and women's departments emphasize classic, traditional styles. "We don't get carried away," smiles Mr. Mihan.
"I know the clothing and the quality and the tailoring. We've stayed with what has worked. We're an Ivy League, three-button, natural-shoulder store. Fashioo in men's wear doesn't bother us. There really isn't an awful lot to do with men's clothing. We were always moderate, conservative and bonest, and we've always sold at a fair

Adds Herb Mihan, "At the different price points, everything has to meet or exceed our quality standards. We want the merchandise to reflect positively on The English Shop. Men's suits range from $275 to $645, for example, and are of the highest quality."

Gertrude Nesch, who has been with the store 25 years and now manages the women's department, also comments on the loyalty of the customers. 'We have many regular customers, even among those who move away. They will of-ten call on the phone to order

Contrained on Nest Page

Customers have appreciated The English Shop's dedication to quality and service and have supported the store through the years. "Princeton alumni come back from time to time and say 'What! You still here?' laughs Mr. Mihan. 'I'm glad when they stop in."

Ambleside has acquired a fine reputation in the years since, and Mrs. Scudder reports that "people come from all over the surrounding area, as well as New York state, Staten Island and Penn-sylvania. We even send potting soil to people as far away as Highlighted by its unusual assortment of trees, shrubs and plants (specializing in perennials) and landscaping service, Ambleside is also known for its unique international crafts shop and, as the holidays ap-proach, its Christmas Shop. Here, Mrs. Scudder has an opportunity to put her creativity to work indoors with the crafts, as well as outdoors with the garden.

"I enjoy hunting for crafts and folk art," she says. "We had the Christmas Shop and crafts the first year we were open. It's particularly nice because it balances the seasons. It gives us something colorful and interesting for the winter.'

Busy Time of Year. In fact, she points out, "The beginning of November to just before Christmas, along with mid-April to May 20, are the busiest times" at Ambleside. People delight in the Christmas Shen delight in the Christmas Shop with its splendid array of trees (each decorated with a different theme), ornaments, decorations, toys and crafts. The shop is already set up, with seven of the planned 11 trees decorated, and a variety of holi-day items on display. It will open officially November 20.

Autumn has its own specialties, of course, with dried flowers and wreaths especially popular. Ambleside has an abundance of these, and many wreaths are made to order.

"We have fresh flower arrangements, too, for Thanksgiving, as well as Christmas, reports Mrs. Scudder, "and we do a lot, of fall wreaths decorated with baby corn. Among other crafts and gift items, there is a handsome pottery stove from Mexico, to be used decoratively, for $65, and, new this year, brown paper streamers and bows from Georgia, suitable for fall decorations on mantels and bannisters, for example, or for use on Christmas trees. Two streamers, each eight feet long, cost $15, and small bows are $5.

Another very popular gift has been the Cat's Meow collectible flat wooden houses. "These are handmade," comments Mrs. Scudder, "and each year, the artisan chooses a town or city and models the houses after it. They are only available that one year. This year it's Savannah. Accompanying the houses are miniature lamp posts, fences and horses and carriages. The houses are $7.99 each, two for $14."

Nutcrackers and music boxes from Germany are also offered at Ambleside. A variety of sizes and types of these impressive nutcrackers range in price from $21 to $90. Children and adults alike will be fascinated by a music box disguised as a fisherman in a boat. As the music plays, the fisherman smokes incense and the boat rocks. It goes for $75. Other music boxes have figures perched atop them which turn about as the tune begins.

ball history has a way of repeating itself in the space of just 12 months. With two games remaining on the schedule, it's make or break time for the Tigers; no more time for "ands", "ifs" or "buts."

Last fall, under Ron Roger-son's leadership, the Orange and Black shrugged off disappointing losses to Penn and William & Mary, and defeated Yale and Cornell to turn a 3-5 season into a highly worthwhile 5-5, and a 5-2 lvy finish. It's time to do it again.

It should be easier for Rogerson's team to overcome the Penn defeat two weeks ago, and a 32-14 loss to William & Mary last Saturday that was more expected than disappointing. As we said last year, stick that one in the "L" column and forget it; the 8-1 Tribe was way out of Princeton's league.

Rogerson can't pull the 2-6 end in Palmer Stadium, will certainly lift this campaign out of the doldrums. A pair of wins will give Old Nassau a second consecutive Big Three championship, and another winning (4-3) league mark. That could lift them as high as a tie for third place.

Once again, this Princeton squad is not being asked to move mountains to finish 4-6. Yale and Dartmouth are two very ordinary football teams, with very ordinary talent that have produced just two wins so far — in some respects, Xerox copies of the '86 Tigers.

No TV for Penn-Cornell

Alas, because of contracts drawn up last May, the Ivy League and Public Broadcasting Service will not be able to showcase the biggest game in years on the final Saturday of the season, November 22.

While Penn and Cornell are deciding the league title in Ithaca, PBS will be featuring the Harvard-Yale game in Cambridge. If all goes as expected this week-end, the Quakers and Big Red will enter the sbowdown both undefeated in league play. Meanwhile, the match-up between Harvard and Yale may have two entries no better than 2-7.

No switch is possible now.

When the decisions were made seven months ago, sponsors paying for the telecasts wanted The Game on the schedule above all else. The Ivy presidents, at Dartmouth's insistence, added their own requirement that each team must appear twice during the season. If Harvard-Yale is not televised, the Elis would only appear once.

STURHAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD

Ever wonder why football teams each have 11 players on the field instead of some other number? ... In the early days, teams used 15 or 20 players at a time, but for a key game between Harvard and McGill University in 1874 when many new rules were being tried out, some members of McGill's team became ill and McGill was able to field only 11 players ... That game was played with 11 on each side ... Everyone liked the change, and 11 was adopted as the new rule for football - but had those McGill players not become sick that day, football might well be played with 15 or 20 men on a side today.

The buck stops here. A samous slogan but not true with S.D.B. claims.

What are the most points ever scored by one player in any National Football League game in history? ... The record was set by Ernie Nevers when he ran for 6 touchdowns and kicked 4 extra points in one game to score 40 points on Nov. 28, 1929 - a record that's never been equaled by any other player in the NFL, before or since.

Tiger Hockey Hopes to Prove Forecast Of Another Ninth-Place Finish Wrong

If the Princeton men's hockey team is going to gain any long-lasting respect, it has got to stop being pegged as a ninth-place team by opposing coaches, and then proving them correct.

Two years ago the Tigers finished eighth and claimed the last spot in the ECAC Division I playoffs for the first time in more than a decade. Last fall, despite a talented group of players headed by returning all-American defenseman Ctiff Abrecht, a pre-scason poll of coaches predicted the Orange and Black couldn't do it again and would finish ninth. The forecast was right on the money.

The poll for this scason has just been released and guess where the Tigers are picked to finish? The coaches have Princeton pegged in the ninth slot once more, above Dartmouth, Brown and Army. Harvard and Cornell lead the 12-team league.

Coach Jim Higgins would love to prove them wrong, and win back a playoff spot, where as he says, "anything can happen. We feel we can make the playoffs," Higgins says. "That's what we're shooting for."

Incidentally, the shooting starts this Friday and Saturday nights, when Princeton travels to Colgate and Cornell. The home openers come the following Friday and Saturday at 7:30 in Buker Rink ngainst Harvard and Dartmouth.

Many people might wonder how this feat will be accomplished. After all, if the Tigers couldn't do it with a 40-45 minutes per game player of Abrecht's ability, how will they do it without him? In addition to being solid on defense, Abrecht set several scoring marks, and piled up 41 points lost year, the most by a player here in 24 years.

However, while Higgins does

However, while Higgins does not have one top quality player, he does have his strongest sen-

Last year, the Orange and Black opened with a bang, beating Cornell, 4-2, in Baker, but the following night the score was reversed against a Colgate team that barely managed to beat out the Tigers for the eighth and final playoff slot.

Things like that have to change if Higgins' skaters are going to climb out of ninth place.

John Messuri What a Freshmen Season!

ior class in several seasons. Six four-year players are expected to contribute heavily to the team, plus two senior goal-tenders, Dave Marotta and Dave Shea. Marotta had more playing time last season, but Shea is giving him a challenge for the starting berth.

Behind the seniors come five juniors, who produced 34 points, and a sophomore class headed by John Messuri, who was voted both the Ivy and ECAC Rookie of the Year. Always around the opposing net last winter, Messuri tied Abrecht for the team lead in scoring.

The word is out that Higgins' recruiting efforts last spring paid off handsomely with a hotshot group of skaters, but he is quick to point out that you can't rely on them right away. "There is a period of adjustment in Division I hockey for any player coming out of either high schools here or Canadian programs," Higgins says. "We think they have a lot of potential, but it may be a couple of months before they help us."

At the moment several freshmen are plugged in to various lines with returning players. First-year man Todd Dow, an Ontario recruit, will play right wing on a line centered by Messuri, while junior Len Quesnelle will skate on the right

Quesnelle, who has been moved up from defense, has been playing well, and tallied twice in a scrimmage with R.I.T. He's one of the reasons Higgins feels the team will be more of an offensive threat this fall. Princeton held its opponents to 3.7 goals per game last winter, but could not match that itself, coming in at 3.6

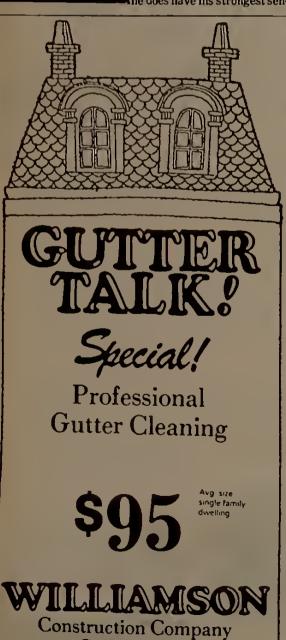

Senior John Rocco will start the season with a cast on one wrist, but he'll be centering a line that includes senior Bill Brady on right wing and junior Dave Umland on the left.

Another line will feature junor Kelly Szautner, who has had a good pre-season, skating between a pair of freshmen from Massachusetts, Bart Blaeser and Greg Polaski. Senior Joe Ross will anchor a fourth line that will include two of the following three freshmen: Kevin Sullivan, Chris Hughes or Dan Palmer.

Two seniors, Jamie Mac-Pherson, who has high marks from Higgins so far, and Scott Howe, will anchor the defense, with juniors John Allen and Steve Purvis also seeing plenty of action. Freshmen vying for icc time include Chris Tatum, Chris DeFazio and Nate Smith.

Sidelined for the moment is senior right winger Tim Driscoll, who injured a knee and has missed three weeks. He may be ready to go by this weekend.

Anybody who has followed the team's fortunes over the past seasons knows what these

Playing a strong first half, coach Cheryl Silva's girls had several chances, but a stout Montclair defense, led by goalie Lisa Bartlett, who made a couple of outstanding saves, held firm. The 0-0 score at halftime apparently unnerved the Pan-thers, according to Silva. "We played our best hockey in the first half," she commented. 'When that wasn't working, it out us on edge. In the second half we were just hitting and hoping; smacking the ball downfield and hoping it would find samebada."

Often the ball did find somebody, and PDS had its time remaining in a 10-minute chances in the second half, overtime. Two had been agreed also, but could not put consistent pressure on the goal. Three more corners failed to produce a score, but suddenly there was a shot across the goal mouth. The ball deflected off Belsy Jaffee's stick, high into the air, and fell behind the goalie, by the far corner.

And littingly, there was Becca Royal there to smack it the remaining one foot across the goal line and into the cage. There were fewer PDS students and fans in attendance than at the county finals, but they did a rousing encore of the celebration scene.

The victory was the 15th for PDS against just one loss and two ties, and it gave the school its seventh prep title in nine years. But, what now for Silva, who now has made her team the best of both prep and public high schools.

"It's been very exciting this year with this team," she said. "I must say that this was one of my goals, but I'm already looking forward to next season.

"We lose 10 seniors, so it will be a rebuilding year, but we have such a good feeder system that it will be good, I'm sure."
It sure should be. Last fall,

PDS lost 11 seniors, and came out this season and won both the prep and county titles. This was supposed to be another rebuilding year, too.

-Jeb Stuart

Another Princeton field hockey team had reason to celebrate last Thursday besides Princeton Day, Its neighbor down The Great Road, Stuart Country Day, captured the Prep "B" Title for the first time ever.

Coach Missy Bruvik's team wrestled the crown away from defending champion Newark Academy in a t-0 triumph. The only goal of the game came off the stick of Katy Duffy, while goalie Laura Taber made five saves to hold Newark scoreless Stuart, which finished 5-5-3 on the season, advanced to the finals with a 2-1 triumph over Morristown-Beard, Helen Payne and Michele Davidson scored in that contest. Stuart only lost to PDS by one goal, 2-1, during the regular scason.
